

CCSA lends a helping hand to Twilight Children

The management and Children of Twilight Children's Centre in Hilbrow were full of gratitude after CCSA President Bill Egbe handed-over a heavy duty washing machine to the centre.

Twilight is a centre for the rehabilitation of street children. It currently houses 75 boys from 8 –18 years of age. The donation comes as result of the visit by CCSA employees to the centre to do volunteering work during this year's It's My Turn Project. Presenting the machine to the centre, Bill said, "this machine is a token of appreciation to the centre for giving a chance to CCSA Associates to give back to the community of Twilight."

Thanking CCSA, the Executive Director of the centre Ms Jane Prichard said, "We appreciate the support received from Coca-Cola. We are grateful for the machine, the curtain material that was donated early this year, and most of all, and the children love the Coke products that came with the donation of the machine. Closing the proceedings, the children of Twilight presented a music item as well as a poem. The poem will be framed and kept at CCSA.
